

Ibero American Workshop of Seasonal Prediction
'Modeling Sciences and its contribution to development'
Guayaquil, October 21st – 23rd of 2008

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ABSTRACTS SUBMISIONS

Dead line and e-mail:

The abstracts must be sent to taller.iberoamericano@ciifen-int.org
Before Monday, June 2nd of 2008

Sessions:

1. Advances in Numerical Techniques for Seasonal Prediction.
2. Advances in Statistical downscaling techniques
3. Model Schemes, verification and validation
4. Seasonal Prediction applications and services in the region

Instructions for abstracts:

- Maximum length : 1000 characters (about 250 words)
- Should not contain any figure or table.
- Must include the name, institution(s) that represent(s), specific activity inside the institution, country and e-mails of the author(s).
- Format: Document A4, type letter Arial 11, simple spaced, horizontal and vertical margins: 3 cm
- Additional Indication about the preference of the oral exposition and final poster of the abstract.
- If you have more than one work, send each one in individual applications.
- More than two abstracts per author or more than three co-author participations will not be allowed

TITLE IN BOLD AND CAPITAL LETTERS

Surname and authors name (1); Surname and name (2)
(1) Institution which belongs, specific activity in the institution
(2) Institution which belongs, specific activity in the institution
COUNTRY (capital)
E-mail (cursive),

After two spaces, the abstract has to contain a maximum of 1000 characters, without any figure or table. The text must be complete justified and if it is possible, elaborated with MS-Word.

Indicate if the work will be an Oral presentation or included in the Poster session